List updated the 1st of every month

Preface:

The BIPOC Mental Health Worker list started over the counter at local Winnipeg bakery "Eadha Bread" with Tamika Krush. Tamika was seeking a list of Black, Indigenous, and People of Colour (BIPOC) identifying mental health workers that were low-barrier access.

Without Tamika, this list would not exist.

The first "BIPOC Mental Health Worker List" was launched March 1, 2020. The list is updated the 1st of every month and features mental health workers of different races, ethnicities, and professional mental health professions. This list is open source and free use.

It was born from community and will always belong to community. Thank you Tamika for entrusting us with starting this project.
